

Robin Julien (°25.04.1986, Bruges, Belgium) is a Belgian architect, Master 'User Oriented Planning and Sustainable Design' KU Leuven, 2012.

He is an expert in Bio Ecological Architecture and Universal Design. Co-author of the UD APP, research and development of an inclusive design grammar and guide for architects, Faculty of Architecture KU Leuven. Guest lecturer of multi stakeholder workshops 'Designing in the Dark' and 'Designing the Multi Sensorial City'. Extensive experience in the designing, planning and executing of Inclusive Design projects and architecture, together with user experts. Designer and developer of the 'Voelmaquette', a multisensorial urban model of the city of Ghent, connecting tactile touch for blind people with Geographical Information of the city. Core member of the ArCsus Lab, research and developing of tactile booklet UDL Box (Universal Design for Learning), technical advisor/support and webmaster.

He is an architect and operational manager for the non-profit organisation On Wheels. The organisation had developed an app that provides accessibility information for wheelchair users and less mobile people, about public buildings. He is de co-founder of CT Steward, a company that develops tools and apps for cities, to make them more accessible, sustainable and social.

Apprenticeships: 2011 Turbozen architects (hotels and homes for the elderly), 2012 BAST/Alexis Versele architects (bio ecological architecture) and 2013 Archi 4/Mark Depreeuw architects (bio ecological architecture).